

Artificial Intelligence is transforming software development.

Retrieval-Augmented Generation combines information retrieval with large language models.

FastAPI is a modern Python framework for building APIs.

Machine learning models require high-quality data.